

OBJECT TO THE HANDICAPS.

STAGE NEWS AND NOTES.

The question is a simple one—as by decided by reason and common sense. Cottolene—the new scientifically prepared shortening—is made from pure beef suet and highly refined vegetable oil. Lard is made in the majority of cases, in the packing-houses, and not as of old, from the fat of the hog. Which is likely to be the most healthful? Decide for yourself. It must be Cottolene.

Were Skin Gloves Used in the Fatal Donovan-Dunne Fight?

If Billy Robertson, the handicapper of the games of the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association to be held next Saturday night, were to station himself in a corner of the armory where he could hear everything that is being said about the manhood in which he has dealt out the handicaps his ears would tingle. A powerful lot of dissatisfaction exists, and the boys are not at all bashful in expressing themselves.

In the open handicap wheelbarrow race of 350 yards, Cray, who holds the indoor record at 55 seconds, is placed on the eight-yard line, and Jack Thornton, the crack runner of the New York Athletic Club, with a record of 50½ seconds, is given six yards. As against this, Robert Fisher, who once in a novice race got third prize, is placed at the scratch, together with Morell, a novice who has never entered a race, while a number of other men who have never competed are to be started from the one and two yard marks.

Just how Mr. Robertson figures that Cray and Thornton crackjacks in their class, are entitled to allowances of eight and six yards, respectively, is a queerly athletic difference, but it is extremely athletic difference, too. Another instance is that of young Hall, a novice, who is entered for the Italian Hospital, in which he is very much handicapped. He has been sent down to the half-mile novice track, and will do him just about as much good as a single drop of water would to a man dying of thirst.

Every company in the regiment is striving to get the best of the others, and the game of Nesolt cup, and each post to the different events is greedily coveted. The gamblers, in themselves, are bound to be thoroughly interested, and the excitement will be amplified now that some companies believe discrimination is apparent.

A good opportunity will be given to the good people of Brooklyn to-morrow to see what sort of material the boys will turn out this season, when President Burns' big broomsticks will face the Princetonians. Arrangements have been made to give the strength of each company a full and equal chance, and no spike the boys to win many tallies. Ladies will be admitted free. Yesterday the broomsticks practiced with the Polytechnic Institute, and tomorrow, at the time of 12 to 1.

Four interesting boxing games were played yesterday. Here they are with the scores at Philadelphia, Yale, Pennsylvania, 72; at Belmont, Va., Harvard, 14; Lehigh, 20; and Vermont, 3; at Middletown, Conn., Wesleyan 10; College City of New York, 2.

A sad termination to the boxing contest Tuesday night at Syracuse between Dunne, of Syracuse, and Tom Donavan, of Cleveland, was the death yesterday afternoon of Donavan. Purves was arrested, as was his son, John, and both were committed to the police. This battle, it is said, was fought with skin gloves, and it such proves to be so, the law will be strict in its application of the laws governing boxing contests. An autopsy reveal the cause of death to have been directly due to some organic trouble, but the coroner's report will not soon be dispatched.

The New Jersey Amusement Company, which has in hand the boxing bout for the championship between Eddy Plummer and George H. Smith, will have the fight at Caledonian Park, Newark, on Friday, to announce that the affair will be carried on as advertised despite the official declarations to the contrary.

"The Fencing Master" company will very soon begin a five weeks' engagement in Chicago. It will close its season on April 15. The comedy troupe of the Columbia will be here next week.

Andy Bowen, of New Orleans, and Jack Burke, of Houston, Tex., will meet tonight at the Olympia Club in New Orleans, in a fight to determine the champion of 62½, and the light-weight champion of the world. Both men are gamy and scintillating, and a long fight may be expected.

The New Yorks play this morning at New Haven, and tomorrow at Holyoke, where they will meet the Dartmouth College team on the polo grounds.

Stanton Abbott, light-weight champion of England, will leave for America Saturday next for the purpose of making a match with Jack McArdle.

New developments in the Griffen-Bixen attempt at match-making promise encouraging results, and hopes are expressed that eventually these two boys will meet in the ring.

BAUMANN & BRO., 1313 to 1315 Third Ave., bet. 75th and 76th Sts., raised 16th st. Open Saturdays until 10 P. M.

BEFORE BREAKFAST BROMO-SELTZER
Act as a Dieter. Trial bottle 10c."

Seventh Regiment Athletes Claim

They Are Unfair.

Liberties Taken with Ida Klein's Portrait at the Academy.

Mme. Due to Play for Charity at the Fifth Avenue.

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein! She is a schoolgirl, Schoefel and Grant.

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young men approached the frame, at the matinee yesterday. One of them asked, "Is she your portrait?" and the other replied, "Mlle. Pompon?" "Ah, yes, I saw her in London last summer. Very clever girl. The portrait is excellent, just like her." Poor Ida Klein!

Miss Ida Klein, the sedate and charming grand opera singer, gave a concert at the Academy of Music last Sunday. A beautifully executed portrait of this lady was placed in the lobby, and it still stands. But there is a cruel addition to it now, an addition that would warrant the interference of Miss Ida Klein's husband. The Academy people are expecting a lively singer and dancer from Paris to appear in "The Black Crook" next week. Her name is Mlle. Rosa Pompon, and she is said to be quite too eccentric. Upon Ida Klein's picture is placed a card, bearing the legend, "Mlle. Rosa Pompon," and underneath that, "Next week." Two young